

This companion is meant to shift with you through the Season. Use it to track what happens in real time so you can hold the threads of your evolution. You'll have this to look back on at the end of the season and beyond, to see how you have shifted through time.

Use this guide as a quick-reference to remind yourself of the cards pulled for each Shift Reading. Track the cards you pull on your own to see what kind of synchronicities show up by the end of the season.

Our Season is marked by three major moments: The Shift Drop, The Shift-Check, and Hindsight Reflection. Write your initial reactions after watching The Shift Readings at the beginning of the season & make some predictions about what might happen. Mid-Season, check in on your Shifts with a Ritual Re-watch & Review the Shift Summaries. Look back on your notes from The Shift Drop and see what has clarified and what mysteries still remain. At the end of the Season, you'll Ritual Rewatch your Shift Readings one final time with the clarity of hindsight. Review your earlier notes and string together the story of how you have shifted this season.

This Companion is a deep magic of The Shifting Space. May it serve your devotion to your ongoing shifts.

If you know, you know. So don't doubt it! Whether you are making astrology delineations, seeing clear signals from the world around you, or doing some research on a possible future choice, take the Fall to pay close attention and gather information and the results will be clear. Don't overthink or convolute. Keep your analysis practical. See what you see and make your choice. The next move may be more obvious than you think...

When you reach the end of something, you can feel it in your bones. You've done all you can do here, Taurus, and your life is ready for a new chapter. This shift may even come as a surprise to some. Making a huge change is not without its challenges, so don't expect it to be easy or uncomplicated. But expect it to be a new beginning worth celebrating. Everyone is supporting you. You can go for it!

You're no longer waiting around for others to take initiative, Gemini. When people say one thing and do another, they'll have you steeping in "maybes" when the reality is really "never." When you're tired of waiting, enact justice on your own heart and end it. Be clear, be decisive, put your boundaries in place, so you can move on from this. And while you're taking your space to Hermit and heal from this relational limbo f*ckery, it would be a great time to practice speaking your mind. Trust what you perceive enough to call it like you see it. Practice having direct and specific conversations with the people in your life. Notice how it empowers you to trust yourself again. Notice how it starts to feel like your heart can heal up real good.

When you find yourself frustrated, maybe lashing out at others, or notice that the people around you are walking on eggshells, consider that your feelings have a bigger impact than you realize. When the flames in you are stoked beyond containment, it's time to look to the source of those emotions. What's the (perhaps ongoing) story at the root of this anger? Mars Retrograde in your sign from December 2024 to February 2025 is giving you a looooong time to feel these feelings. Understanding their source will help you move them through in ways that are less hard on How does this connect with the scorpio fall vourself and others.

Mars Retrograde in your sign towards the end of the Fall may be telling you no. It might be presenting you with pretty obvious obstacles, especially if you're trying to jump into something quickly after a painful experience. Give yourself the gift of TIME, Leo. Time to heal, to reconnect with yourself and your friends, to let your experiences and the vastness of space and time wash over you so you can see how nothing is actually that urgent...let yourself be humbled. Dwell in the simplicity of slow and steady. Your new beginning will come soon enough.

M SPACE FOR THE UNSEEN

The nodes of fate are shifting your way, Virgo. Can you feel it? As this Fall welcomes the first eclipse on the Pisces-Virgo axis, of which there will be many more during the next two years, this is initiating a time of changes in your life. Eclipses bring endings and beginnings and unexpected shifts. It is vital that your theoretical framework, your mythos of how you exist in the world, is flexible and magical enough to hold what unknowns may come. Can you make space for what you can't know and don't understand? Can you entertain the possibility that the extreme shifts you may experience are working in ways you can't perceive? Can you trust the unseen hands at work in your life?

 LIVE WHAT YOU LOVE

Making decisions so hard when you can't hear your heart. When you're so exhausted and burnt out from the constant onslaught of "shoulds" that you feel you must live up to, how can you even think of what your heart might want? Pluto's final days in Capricorn this Fall may be bringing these Should Demons, that have become part of your life since 2008, to the forefront for one confrontation. Perhaps your heart is ready for more love, more creativity, more of a romantic kind of life again. Look to Venus, sit with her bright star in the sky, and ask her to guide you back to your heart. Let her show you your own Venusian strength and you'll find the conviction to go the way of your heart.

M, BRICK BY BRICK

Your inner life is richly structured, Scorpio. It's high time your external life reflected that same strength. As your need for tangible, secure structures becomes more and more vital, you'll need to make the shift from thinking about safety and security in theory, to taking real world steps to put it into practice. It's time to start (real) world-building. While the payoff may not be immediate, the long-term rewards will be evident as time goes on. Things are changing in your life and you've got this opportunity, this second chance, to rebuild. Get the help you need from people who are already good at what you want to do. Let them show you how to build a strong and lasting foundation.

X INTO THE DEPTHS

Part 1 of a collab reading with Capricorn, your reading is taking you deep into the cavernous spaces of your life. There's been an ending, maybe a loss, that has sent you into an existential space. This reading is as if you are in a period of mourning, lying in the tomb, yourself. And while you are there, Pluto (having its final retrograde through Capricorn in our lifetime) is taking you into the underworld to find something you thought you lost. Between Pluto's Retrograde and Mercury & Mars' Retrograde, give yourself the space and time to go on this cave quest. What you retrieve from this mystery realm is the emotional breakthrough that will allow you to resurface ready to move on and reconnect with your life.

Part 2 of a collab reading with Sagittarius, you've BEEN THERE DONE THAT when it comes to hellscapes. With Pluto in your sign since 2008, it's final retrograde back into Capricorn this fall for one last deep dive is nothing new for you. Something is coming full circle as Pluto moves out of your sign for good and into Aquarius for the next 20 or so years this November. Congratulations, Cap. You made it through. Are you ready for the next steps?

MEXT LEVEL COLLAB

You are invited to level up your relationships now, Aquarius. The chapter of your life where you held all the stress and strife and feelings all by yourself and worked so hard to break out of cycles totally solo, has ended. You're starting a new chapter where you learn that you're not alone anymore. That your projects, your creations, require others to grow into their fullest potential, which means you have to collaborate. Your last few readings have talked about working with others. This one gets real specific about how your intense passions and fiery feels affect those you are in relationship with and how you could learn to channel them in a way that could nourish what you're cultivating... together.

+ TRY THE OPPOSITE

This Fall we see the first eclipse on the Pisces-Virgo axis, highlighting the relationship you have with your opposite sign. Consider that the tension between you & Virgo serves as a useful counterbalance for navigating the extremes, the surprises, and the changes that eclipses can bring to your sign. Perhaps this is an opportunity to explore an opposing perspective, or a completely opposite approach, as you begin to experience even more fluctuations than usual. Finding God in the details, paying attention to your body, seeking healing modalities, discovering the power of succinct analysis & specific communication, embracing the small devotions of a daily routine, all of these Virgoan interests may be incredibly useful as your emotional state shifts and shifts again.
